FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

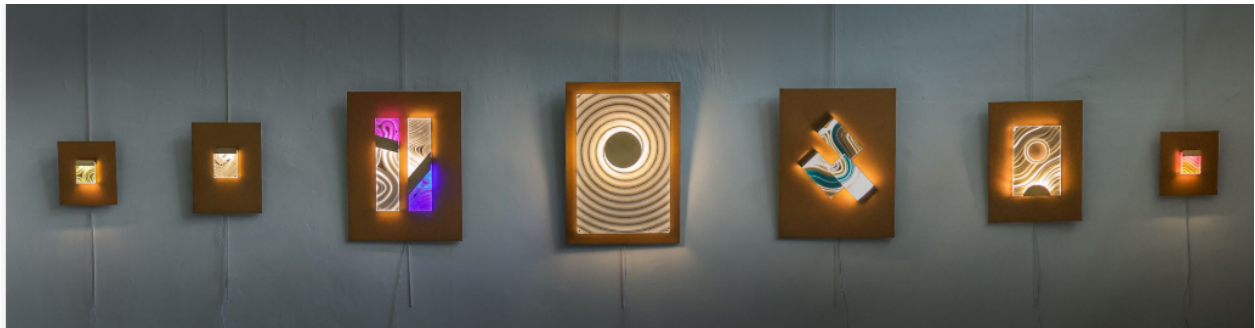

Hotlotz Holds Charity Auction of Seven Artworks in Support of Pink Fest 2026

Online auction opens 25 June and closes 12 July 2026 from 6pm onwards

SINGAPORE, 25 June 2026 – Hotlotz is auctioning seven artworks by Singapore intermedia artist Wei Lih Lee to raise funds for Oogachaga, The T Project and Proud Spaces, as part of Pink Fest 2026, Singapore's annual Pride Festival.

The seven lots are from Whispers, Lee's 2026 series of meditative tape art. Each piece is built by hand from masking tape and light on acrylic, one line at a time, with starting bids between S$1,800 and S$7,000. The works are offered in Hotlotz's monthly Interiors & Collectors' sale.

About the Works

Whispers is a series of meditative tape artworks Lee developed from mid-October 2025. Each piece is built through a sustained process of laying curved lines of masking tape across acrylic and lighting the surface from behind, so light shifts across it in slow, rhythmic movement. The series explores themes of inner energy, reflection, uncertainty and quiet resilience.

About Wei Lieh Lee

Wei Lieh Lee is a Singapore-based intermedia artist working under the name Very Small Exhibition. He has permanent public commissions at Changi Airport (Terminals 3 and X) and One Holland Village, and has presented work at the Singapore Night Festival, i-Light Singapore, the Singapore International Festival of Arts, and in New York, Prague and the Netherlands. He was featured in Prudential Singapore Eye: Contemporary Singapore Art (2015).

About Pink Fest

Pink Fest is Singapore's annual Pride festival, bringing together brands, community groups and individuals each June. Volunteer-run and community-built, it exists to create spaces where people can show up as themselves, fully and without explanation.
