

MS. MEDHINI IGOOR

Medhini Igoor is a Researcher within the Nature, Climate, and Economy thematic of Centre for a Smart Future (CSF), an Asia-focussed think tank based in Colombo, Sri Lanka. One of her areas of focus is understanding business dependence on the environment, and the associated risks and opportunities. She has worked on topics such as corporate environmental disclosures, natural capital and businesses, cross-sector collaboration for enterprise development, and community resilience and livelihood development.

She is an Erasmus Mundus scholar and has recently completed a Joint Master's in Environmental Science, Policy and Management from Central European University (Austria), University of the Aegean (Greece), Lund University (Sweden) and University of Manchester (UK).