

MR NALIN MUNASINGHE

Nalin began his career in 1993 and has gained experience across both profit and non-profit sectors. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Agriculture and a Master's in Economics, alongside post graduate marketing qualifications from CIM UK. His first 15 years of career was spent with FAO and various UN agencies, followed by key roles at the World Bank, Oxfam Australia, and IUCN Sri Lanka. In 2012, he joined a global team at FAO HQ in Rome to assist FAO's culture change process while earning recognition as one of the "50 Most Impactful Green Leaders" at the World CSR Platform in India. As a trainer and lecturer, Nalin has educated thousands, and he currently leads FAO's programs in Sri Lanka and the Maldives as the Assistant Country Representative.

At FAO, he currently manages a portfolio exceeding USD 30 million and provides strategic leadership to a programme team of over 50 staff members. He engages with a wide range of stakeholders to deliver impactful solutions that respond to the government's priorities and the needs of the people. His work focuses on advancing food and nutrition security through integrated interventions across agriculture, livestock, fisheries, forestry, and environmental sectors.
